My dearest,

Nothing much new to say. We've had some time to do some bowling and a little ping pong - and at bowling I think but I still believe I could ^{STILL} take you in ping pong. Also we have been eating royally. The cafeteria here is excellent.

We're getting paid so I shall send some money to you. $50 in a war bond for Johnny, $50 in a bond for us (both I'll send to 1236 Granger), and I'll send ~~another~~ a check for $100 to Cleveland for your account there. You check with your mother to see if it arrives safely.

Dearest, there is nothing much to say except I love you and Johnny very much. I shall miss you terribly, but then the memories of our past few months will be happy ones.

Write me all about everything and my dearest love.

Jack
