

Letter #08

My dearest,

I just wrote a long letter to Puss and another to Mother. In case they don't receive them for quite a while, you keep in touch with them, won't you? Why don't you try to have Puss come out and see you this summer some time.

Finally, I secured some of those things I've been looking for, flashlight, garters, etc. I believe the only thing I lack is a pair of moccasins, but I may be able to get those soon.

So far I have only received letters 1 & 2 from you, but maybe some more will come through soon. I am anxious to hear how everything is working out. I'd give anything to see you two. Has Johnny got a dog to replace the two pictures in his old room? Maybe I shall be able to find one to send to him. Let me know if you received the check & bonds I sent to Cleveland. I sent them there because I thought you would eventually anyway.

Have you heard anything from Mike and Shirley? I guess this folks will be glad to see him after a year overseas.

There isn't an awful lot of news
at this point. ~~George~~ George is still the same and sends his love to you. He takes everything in his stride.

Darling - did those pictures of Johnny come out well. Send them to me as soon as you can. Also if you can get any film, send me a couple of rolls.

Would that we could have that last week at Carmel together again. Has the river become dammed up lately.

I miss coming home each night to you and Johnny. Let's hope some day it will be to you, Johnny, Priscilla & Mike.
I love you, dearest.

Jack -
